1.Data Clump in Dimension Class for setting various dimensions we have to pass all three dimensions instead we can have three function setLength(),setWidth() and setHeight() function which will lead to more flexible code.

2.Large Class Antipattern in EditItemActivity Class we can have two classes one for edited items and another for activity.With activity class containing reference to edited object.